Bureau of Reclamation

[FES 96-14]

Tongue River Basin Project/Northern Cheyenne Indian Reserved Water Rights Settlement Act of 1992, Big Horn County, Montana

AGENCY: Bureau of Reclamation (Interior), in conjunction with the Northern Cheyenne Tribe and the Montana Department of Natural Resources and Conservation.

ACTION: Notice of availability of Final Environmental Impact Statement (FEIS).

SUMMARY: Pursuant to section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy

Act of 1969, as amended, the Bureau of Reclamation, acting as lead Federal agency, in conjunction with the Northern Cheyenne Tribe and the
Montana Department of Natural Resources and Conservation, has prepared a Final Environmental Impact Statement on the Tongue River Basin Project portion of the Northern Cheyenne Indian Reserved Water Rights
Settlement Act of 1992 (Settlement Act).
The proposed action affects the following trust assets of the Northern Cheyenne Indian Tribe (Tribe) (1) the Tribe's existing water supplies held in Tongue River Reservoir; (2) the safety of downstream Tribal lands; and (3) additional water for the Tribe's use in the Tongue River Basin. The FEIS evaluates the impact to the environment of various alternatives for protecting these Tribal assets. The project includes the repair and enlargement of the Tongue River Dam, the partial fulfillment of the Northern Cheyenne Settlement Act, and the conservation, development, and enhancement of fish and wildlife resources and habitat in the Tongue River Basin.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Ms.
Katherine Jabs, Area Manager, Montana Projects Office, Bureau of Reclamation (Code: MT-100), P.O. Box 30137, Billings, Montana 59107, telephone:
(406) 247-7298.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Negotiations between the Federal Government (acting as trustee for the Tribe) and the State of Montana culminated in 1991 with the signing of a water rights compact. Subsequently, the compact was ratified by the United States Congress and the Northern Cheyenne Indian Water Rights
Settlement Act of 1992 (Settlement Act)
was signed into Public Law #102-374.
During the negotiations, an opportunity was identified to rehabilitate the presently unsafe State-owned Tongue River Dam (Dam) and provide additional water to the Tribe by raising the dam. The following action alternatives for rehabilitating and replacing the spillway and raising the Dam crest elevation 4 feet were evaluated in the FEIS: (1) A Labyrinth Weir Spillway, (2) a Roller-Compacted Concrete (RCC) Spillway, and (3) No Action. Other alternatives were considered and dismissed on the basis of being technically or economically infeasible or resulted in greater environmental effects. These dismissed alternatives ranged from purchasing water rights to satisfy the Settlement Act to constructing a new dam at another location. The preferred alternative selected by the project sponsors is the RCC alternative.

During the process of negotiating the compact, the State of Montana and the Bureau of Reclamation hosted numerous public and agency informational meetings. More recently, during the NEPA process, public scoping meetings were held during March 1993. A scoping document containing the schedule for all meetings was mailed to approximately 2100 individuals and entities on the Northern Cheyenne Indian Reservation and surrounding towns and cities. After the scoping process was completed, the draft EIS was completed and sent out for agency and public review and comment in mid 1995. Comments were received and replies are incorporated in the FEIS.

There is a 30-day public comment period for the FEIS. Anyone interested in obtaining a copy of the FEIS and/or wanting more information relative to the study should contact the following persons:
