NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS BOARD

Privacy Act of 1974; System of Records

AGENCY: National Labor Relations Board (NLRB).

ACTION: Notice of amended system name and routine uses for NLRB system of records NLRB-20, Agency Disciplinary Case Files.

SUMMARY: This notice amends the system name and the language of four routine uses in the NLRB Privacy Act system of records NLRB-20, Agency Disciplinary Case Files.

EFFECTIVE DATE: These amendments shall become effective without further notice 30 days from the date of this publication, April 29, 1996, unless comments are received on or before that date which results in a contrary determination.

ADDRESSES: Written comments on the amendments may be submitted to the Executive Secretary, National Labor Relations Board, 1099 Fourteenth Street NW., Washington, DC 20570-0001. Copies of comments received will be available for inspection between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. in Room 11600.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: John J. Toner, Executive Secretary, National Labor Relations Board, 1099 Fourteenth Street NW., Washington, DC 20570-0001.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Pursuant to subsection (e)(11) of the Privacy Act of 1974, 5 U.S.C. 552a, the NLRB is publishing a notice amending the name of its system of records NLRB-20, Agency Disciplinary Case Files and revising existing routine uses Nos. 2, 5, 6, and 9. The system notice of NLRB-20 was last published in its entirety in 58 FR 57633, along with a proposed rule exempting the system from certain provisions of the Privacy Act, on October 26, 1993.

The name of the system is changed by placing the word "Nonemployees" at the end in parenthesis after the existing system name: NLRB-20, Agency Disciplinary Case Files (Nonemployees). This is being done in order to make clear that the system is only applicable to attorneys and other individuals who are not current NLRB employees. The four amended routine uses Nos. 2, 5, 6, and 9 respectively narrow the existing routine uses to specify more exactly the information that may be disclosed to a bar association or similar Federal, state, or local licensing authority; an inquiring Federal, state, or local government authority for hiring or retention of an employee; a court or other adjudicatory body in the course of presenting evidence or argument, including disclosure to opposing counsel or witnesses in the course of civil discovery; and an inquiring congressional office about the subject individual who must be the constituent about whom the records are maintained.

A report of this notice to amend the name of the system and the four routine uses in NLRB-20, Agency Disciplinary Case Files was filed pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(r) with the Office of Management and Budget and with Congress. The specific changes to the notice being amended (58 FR 57633, October 26, 1993) are set forth below.

Dated: Washington, DC., March 14, 1996.

By direction of the Board.

John J. Toner,

Executive Secretary.

NLRB-20

SYSTEM NAME:

Agency Disciplinary Case Files (Nonemployees).

ROUTINE USES OF RECORDS MAINTAINED IN THE SYSTEM, INCLUDING CATEGORIES OF USERS AND THE PURPOSES OF SUCH USES:

* * * * *

2. A bar association or similar Federal, State, or local licensing authority, where the record or information, by itself or in connection with other records or information, indicates a violation or potential violation of the standards of professional conduct established or adopted by the licensing authority.

* * * * *

5. A Federal, State, or local government authority, in response to its request, that this system of records contains information relevant to the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance or retention of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance or retention of a license, grant, or other benefit. The other agency or licensing organization may then make a request supported by the written consent of the individual for the entire record if it so chooses. No disclosure will be made unless the information has been determined to be sufficiently reliable to support a referral to another office within the NLRB or to another Federal agency for criminal, civil, administrative, personnel, or regulatory action.

6. A court, magistrate, administrative tribunal, or other adjudicatory body in the course of presenting evidence or argument, including disclosure to opposing counsel or witnesses in the course of civil discovery, litigation, or settlement negotiations, or in connection with criminal law proceedings, when: (a) The NLRB or any component thereof, or (b) any employee of the NLRB in his or her official capacity; or (c) any employee of the NLRB in his individual capacity where the NLRB has agreed to represent the employee; or (d) the United States Government, is a party to litigation or has interest in such litigation, and determines that such disclosure is relevant and necessary to the litigation and that the use of such records is therefore deemed by the NLRB to be for a purpose that is compatible with the purpose for which the records were collected.

* * * * *

9. A Member of Congress or a Congressional staff member in response to an inquiry of the Congressional office made at the written request of the constituent about whom the records are maintained.
