Notice Pursuant to the National Cooperative Research and Production Act of 1993—Hybrid Propulsion System Research Collaboration Agreement

Notice is hereby given that, on May 13, 1996, pursuant to Section 6(a) of the National Cooperative Research and Production Act of 1993, 15 U.S.C. § 4301 et seq. ("the Act"), Hybrid Propulsion System Research Collaboration Agreement has filed written notifications simultaneously with the Attorney General and the Federal Trade Commission disclosing (1) The identities of the parties and (2) the nature and objectives of the venture. The notifications were filed for the purpose of invoking the Act's provisions limiting the recovery of antitrust plaintiffs to actual damages under specified circumstances. Pursuant to Section 6(b) of the Act, the identities of the parties are: General Motors Corporation, Detroit, MI; Chrysler Corporation, Highland Park, MI; and Ford Motor Company, Dearborn, MI.

The objective of the venture is to accelerate the development of Hybrid Propulsion System (HPS) research, to minimize inefficient duplication of effort and expense, to maximize leverage of corporate and government resources, and to improve general scientific knowledge. The results will support the Partnership for a New Generation of Vehicles and potentially make the Parties more competitive in world markets. To meet these objectives, the Parties will combine their government-funded HPS research initiatives, collect, exchange and analyze research information, interact with government, auto industry and other entities interested in this area and perform other acts allowed by the National Cooperative Research and Production Act that would advance these goals.
