The following requests have been submitted for review since the last publication date on September 24, 1996.

Proposed Project

1. 1997 National Health Interview Survey, Basic Module—(0920-0214)—Revision—The annual National Health Interview Survey (NHIS) is a basic source of general statistics on the health of the U.S. population. Due to the integration of health surveys in the Department of Health and Human Services, the NHIS also has become the sampling frame and first stage of data collection for other major surveys, including the Medical Expenditure Panel Survey, the National Survey of Family Growth, and the National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey. By linking to the NHIS, the analysis potential of these surveys increases. The NHIS has long been used by government, university, and private researchers to evaluate both general health and specific issues, such as cancer, AIDS, and childhood immunizations. Journalists use its data to inform the general public. It will continue to be a leading source of data for the Congressionally-mandated "Health US" and related publications, as well as the single most important source of statistics to track progress toward the National Health Promotion and Disease Prevention Objectives, "Healthy People 2,000."

Because of survey integration and changes in the health and health care of the U.S. population, demands on the NHIS have changed and increased, leading to a major redesign which was tested and partially implemented in 1996. Improved information technology was included, especially computer assisted personal interviewing (CAPI). This clearance is for the first full year of data collection using the redesigned NHIS data system. This data collection, planned for January-December 1997, will result in publication of new national estimates of health statistics and release of public use micro data files. The new data system is expected to be in the field for at least 10 years. The total cost to respondents is estimated at $697,500.

Respondents	No. of respondents	No. of responses/respondent	Avg. burden/response (in hrs.)
Family .....	42,000	1	0.5
Sample adult	42,000	1	0.5
Sample child	18,000	1	0.25

The total annual burden is 46,500.
