NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

Licensing Support System Advisory Review Panel

AGENCY: U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

ACTION: Notice of renewal of the Licensing Support System Advisory Review Panel (LSSARP).

SUMMARY: The Licensing Support System Advisory Review Panel was established by the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission as a Federal Advisory Committee in 1989. Its purpose is to provide advice to (1) the Department of Energy (DOE) on the fundamental issues of design and development of an electronic information management system to be used to store and retrieve documents relating to the licensing of a geologic repository for the disposal of high-level radioactive waste, and (2) the Nuclear Regulatory Commission on the operation and maintenance of the system. This electronic information management system is known as the Licensing Support System (LSS).

Membership on the Panel is drawn from those interests that will be affected by the use of the LSS, including the Department of Energy, the NRC, the State of Nevada, Tribal interests, affected units of local governments in Nevada, and the nuclear industry.
Federal agencies with expertise and experience in electronic information management systems also participate on the Panel.

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission has determined that renewal of the charter for the LSSARP until December 19, 1998 is in the public interest in connection with duties imposed on the Commission by law. This action is being taken in accordance with the Federal Advisory Committee Act after consultation with the Committee Management Secretariat, General Services Administration.

POSTAL RATE COMMISSION

[Order No. 1148; Docket No. MC97-1]

Experimental Nonletter-Size Business Reply Mail Categories and Fees, 1996; Notice and Order on Filing of Request for Establishment of Experimental Nonletter-Size Business Reply Mail Categories and Fees

Issued December 18, 1996.

Before Commissioners: Edward J. Gleiman, Chairman; H. Edward Quick, Jr., Vice Chairman; George W. Haley; W.H. "Trey" LeBlanc III.

Notice is hereby given that on December 13, 1996, the U.S. Postal Service filed a Request with the Postal Rate Commission pursuant to section 3623 of the Postal Reorganization Act, 39 U.S.C. 101 et seq., for a recommended decision on proposed changes in the Domestic Mail Classification Schedule (DMCS). The proposed revisions also include proposed new fees. The Request includes attachments and is supported by the testimony of three witnesses and three library references. It is on file in the Commission Docket Room and is available for inspection during the Commission's regular business hours.¹

Experimental Nature of the Proposed Change: The Postal Service indicates that it is requesting new classifications and fees for nonletter-size Business Reply Mail (BRM) on an experimental basis. The Service proposes that these experimental BRM categories be put into effect for two years, in order to assess the costs associated with providing them and their administrative feasibility.

Description of request: The Postal Service proposes a revised schedule of fees for nonletter-size Business Reply Mail processed under two alternative accounting procedures known as the "reverse manifest" method and the "weight averaging" method. Generally, the Postal Service expects that the alternative methods of accounting for nonletter-size BRM pieces will reduce postal workhours that would otherwise be attributable to this mail, permit more expeditious rating and billing, allow the recipient earlier access to the mail, and increase customer satisfaction with BRM service. On these grounds, the Postal Service proposes per-piece fees for active business reply mail advance deposit accounts of 2 cents for nonletter-size pieces using reverse manifest procedures, and 3 cents for such pieces using weight averaging procedures.

However, in addition to the apparently lower per-piece accounting costs of employing the two methods, the Service anticipates that establishing a "reverse manifest" or "weight averaging" BRM account for a recipient, as well as the required periodic sampling, auditing, and monitoring of such an account, will generate extraordinary postal costs in excess of the current BRM annual permit fee ($85.00) and annual advance deposit accounting fee ($205.00). To recover these extraordinary costs, the Service proposes adoption of application/qualification fees for each BRM account seeking to employ an alternative

¹ In a separate notice filed simultaneously with its Request, the Postal Service states that interested persons who intervene in this proceeding may arrange to obtain copies of the request by contacting Postal Service counsel by telephone at (202)268-2998, or Ms. Bonnie D'Alessandro at (202)268-2988, and that intervenors will be provided with two copies of the Request upon showing that they have filed notices of intervention with the Postal Rate Commission.
