Gas Pipeline Facilities and Services on the Outer Continental Shelf—Issues Related to the Commission's Jurisdiction Under the Natural Gas Act and the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act; Statement of Policy

Issued February 28, 1996.

I. Introduction

In this docket, the Commission has been exploring the issue of the application of its jurisdiction under the Natural Gas Act (NGA) <sup>1</sup> and the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act (OCSLA) over natural gas facilities and services on the Outer Continental Shelf (OCS).<sup>2</sup> In response to several recent requests that the Commission declare existing certificated offshore systems <sup>3</sup> and proposed offshore facilities in the Gulf of Mexico<sup>4</sup> to be exempt gathering facilities, and in view of increases in <sup>1</sup>Section 1(b) of the NGA grants the Commission regulatory jurisdiction over "the transportation of natural gas in interstate commerce" and "the sale in interstate commerce of natural gas for resale." At the same time, section 1(b) exempts from the NGA's coverage "the production or gathering of natural gas." Thus, section 1(b) first grants to the Commission broad plenary authority to regulate the business of transporting and of wholesaling natural gas moving in interstate commerce. Secondly, section 1(b) removes from that plenary grant of federal jurisdiction those aspects of natural gas regulation which are the proper subject of state regulation.

<sup>2</sup> Generally, sections 5(e) and 5(f)(1) of the OCSLA give the Commission certain responsibilities and authorizations to ensure that natural gas pipelines on the OCS transport for non-owner shippers in a nondiscriminatory manner and operate in accordance with certain competitive principles. Section 5(e) of the OCSLA requires pipelines to transport natural gas produced from the OCS "without discrimination" and in such "proportionate amounts" as the Commission, in consultation with the Secretary of Energy, determines to be reasonable. In addition, section 5(f)(1) of the OCSLA requires pipelines transporting gas on or across the OCS to adhere to certain competitive principles." These "competitive principles" include a requirement that the pipeline must provide "open and nondiscriminatory access to both owner and nonowner shippers." The applicability of the provisions of sections 5(e) and 5(f)(1) is not restricted to interstate pipelines that are subject to the Commission's NGA jurisdiction.

The only pipelines that may be exempt from the Commission's authority under the OCSLA are certain "feeder lines," which are defined in section 5(f)(2) of the OCSLA as a pipeline that feeds into a facility where oil and gas are "first collected" or a facility where oil and gas are "first separated, dehydrated, or otherwise processed." These "feeder lines" may only be exempted from the requirements of the OCSLA by order of the Commission.

successful offshore exploration and development activities, the Commission has elected to review issues concerning the status, scope, and effect of its regulation of gathering and transportation on the OCS. In view of the importance of current OCS production,<sup>5</sup> and its potential as a source of new production, the Commission seeks in this proceeding to assure that regulatory policies do not impede or distort development activities on the OCS.

The Commission solicited comments on the operational considerations pertaining to OCS exploration and development activities, and the legal and policy issues implicated in either maintaining or departing from present policy. Thirty-five responses were submitted by representatives of all segments of the industry. The Commission has reviewed these comments and will clarify its regulation of OCS facilities and services, as discussed below.

II. Background

In 1989, in response to the decision in EP Operating Co. v. FERC (EP Operating) 8—which reversed a Commission determination that a 16inch diameter, 51-mile long pipeline connecting an OCS production platform to an offshore processing plant was a jurisdictional transportation facilitythe Commission set upon a review of its gathering policy. The purpose of that review was to assess the impact of EP Operating as well as the continuing viability and relevance of the "primary function" test, which at that time was the Commission's preferred methodology for determining the jurisdictional status of gas pipeline facilities.9 That review culminated in
