

states that for a first violation of the age and identification requirements, FDA will issue a letter notifying the retailer that it was out of compliance and informing the retailer that FDA will schedule a followup compliance check. The guidance explains that the second time a retailer is out of compliance FDA will seek civil money penalties in the amount of $250.00.

The new section that FDA is making available addresses questions concerning the amount of penalties that FDA intends to seek for third and subsequent violations of the age and photo ID provisions of the regulation. FDA intends to seek $1,500.00 for a third violation, $5,000.00 for a fourth violation, and $10,000.00 for a fifth violation. The new section provides more information concerning the civil money penalty process under which a retailer may pay the penalty or request a hearing to contest it. Because some of the answers contained in the new section represent FDA's current interpretation of new regulatory requirements, the additions constitute guidance. Therefore, FDA is publishing the new section in draft and is soliciting public comment. FDA will review received comments and, if appropriate, revise the document in response to comments.

The draft guidance does not create or confer any rights for or on any person and does not operate to bind FDA or the public.

Interested persons may, on or before April 21, 1998, submit written comments regarding this draft guidance to the Dockets Management Branch, address above. Two copies of any comments are to be submitted, except that individuals may submit one copy. Comments are to be identified with the docket number found in brackets in the heading of this document. The draft guidance and received comments may be seen in the office above between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.
