Type of Review: Revision of a currently approved collection.

Respondents: Business or other for-profit entities.

Number of Respondents: 15,000.

Estimate Time Per Response: 10 sec. (156 responses annually/respondent)

Frequency of Response:

Recordkeeping; On occasion reporting requirements.

Total Annual Burden: 6,500 hours.

Total Annual Costs: None.

Needs and Uses: The Commission adopted Rules that require the weekly testing of all Emergency Alert System (EAS) by broadcasting stations including cable television across the United States. Records of this information is necessary to document compliance with this Rule and to enhance awareness and participation in the national, state and local EAS. Accurate recordkeeping of this data is vital in determining the location and nature of possible equipment failure on the part of the transmitting or receiving entity. Furthermore, since the national level EAS is solely for the use of the President of the United States, its proper operation must be assured.

The purpose of the information is to ensure that the emergency alert systems throughout the United States are in good working condition thus ensuring that communities will have access to communications systems in time of national emergency and/or local weather related or man made disasters.

Needs and Uses: Radio frequency (RF) devices (examples: microwaves, computer microprocessor, computers, computer peripherals, telephones with memory or other advanced features, video cameras, recorders, transmitters, electronic musical instruments, video games and radio remote control toys.) imported into the United States are capable of causing harmful interference (safety of life) to radio systems. The FCC working in conjunction with U.S. Customs is responsible for the regulations of both authorized radio services and devices that can cause interference. FCC Form 740 must be completed for each radio frequency device as defined in 47 U.S.C. 302 and D.F.R. 2.802, which is imported into the Customs territory of the United States. Purpose of this information is to keep non-compliant devices from being distributed to the general public thereby reducing the potential for harmful interference being caused to authorized communications. Form can be filed electronically.
