

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Pea Ridge National Military Park is a 4,300 acre Civil War Battlefield that preserves the site of March 1862 battle that saved Missouri for the Union. The Battle of Pea Ridge, March 7th and 8th, 1862 was the successful culmination of a Union campaign to foil the Confederacy's goal of securing Missouri and capturing the Federal arsenal at St. Louis. The victory at Pea Ridge allowed the Union to continue control of Missouri and the Missouri and Mississippi Rivers, thus assisting the strategic and logistical base for General Grant's Mississippi campaign.

In accordance with NPS Park Planning policy, the GMP will ensure the Memorial has a clearly defined direction for resource preservation and visitor use. It will be developed in consultation with servicewide program managers, interested parties, and the general public. It will be based on an adequate analysis of existing and potential resource conditions and visitor experiences, environmental impacts, and costs of alternative courses of action.

The environmental review of the GMP/EIS for Historic Site will be conducted in accordance with requirements of the NEPA (42 U.S.C. § 4371 et seq.), NEPA regulations (40 CFR 1500–1508), other appropriate Federal regulations, and National Park Service procedures and policies for compliance with those regulations.

The National Park Service estimates the draft GMP and draft EIS will be available to the public by the autumn of 2000.

Dated: June 30, 1999.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR*National Park Service*Notice of Intent to Repatriate a Cultural Item in the Possession of the American Museum of Natural History of New York, NY

AGENCY: National Park Service

ACTION: Notice

Notice is hereby given under the Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act, 43 CFR 10.10 (a)(3), of the intent to repatriate a cultural item in the possession of the American Museum of Natural History which meets the definition of "object of cultural patrimony" under Section 2 of the Act.

The cultural item is a wooden canoe prow piece carved in the shape of a beaver. It is painted red with black and blue-green detailing and it has abalone teeth and eyes. Representatives of Kootznoowoo, Incorporated, identified this prow piece as belonging to the one canoe that survived the U.S. Navy's shelling of Angoon in 1882.

In 1911, the American Museum of Natural History purchased this prow piece from George Thornton Emmons. The Museum accessioned the item into its collection the same year (AMNH Accession Number 1911-7).

The cultural affiliation of this item is Hutsnuwu ("Hootz-ah-tar") Tlingit as indicated through Museum records and consultation with representatives of Kootznoowoo, Incorporated. Kootznoowoo, Incorporated, had requested the object on behalf of the Deisheetaan Clan. Consultation evidence presented by representatives of Kootznoowoo, Incorporated, indicates that this item has ongoing historical, traditional, and cultural importance central to the tribe itself, and no individual had the right to alienate it at the time of acquisition.

Based on the above-mentioned information, officials of the American Museum of Natural History have determined that, pursuant to 43 CFR 10.2 (d)(4), this cultural item has ongoing historical, traditional, and cultural importance central to the tribe itself, and could not have been alienated, appropriated, or conveyed by any individual. Officials of the American Museum of Natural History have also determined that, pursuant to 43 CFR 10.2 (e), there is a relationship of shared group identity which can be reasonably traced between this item and Kootznoowoo, Incorporated.

This notice has been sent to officials of Kootznoowoo, Incorporated, and the Angoon Community Association. Representatives of any other Indian tribe that believes itself to be culturally affiliated with this object should contact Martha Graham, Registrar for Cultural Resources, Department of Anthropology, American Museum of Natural History, Central Park West at 79th Street, New York, NY 10024-5192, telephone (212) 769-5846, before August 11, 1999.

Repatriation of this object to Kootznoowoo, Incorporated, may begin after that date if no additional claimants come forward.

The National Park Service is not responsible for the contents of or determinations within this notice.

Dated: July 2, 1999.
