Background

Chapter 4 of the NAFTA, which entered into force on January 1, 1994, contains the rules of origin for application of the tariff provisions of the NAFTA to trade in goods. Section 202(q) of the North American Free Trade Agreement Implementation Act (the Act) authorizes the President, subject to the consultation and layover requirements of section 103 of the Act, to proclaim such modifications to the rules as may from time to time be agreed to by the NAFTA countries. One of the requirements set out in section 103 of the Act is that the President obtain advice from the United States International Trade Commission.

The Commission was requested by the USTR, in a letter received on August 2, 1999, to provide advice on the probable effect on U.S. trade and domestic industries of the proposed modifications to the rules of origin. The modifications include changes to Annexes 401 and 403.1, which are part of chapter 4 of the NAFTA. The letter requested that the advice be forwarded to the USTR by September 10, 1999. A list of the proposed modifications, compiled by the Commission in consultation with the U.S. Department of Treasury, is available from the Office of the Secretary of the Commission or by accessing the electronic version of this notice at the Commission's World Wide Web site (<http://www.usitc.gov>). A complete copy of Annexes 401 and 403.1 incorporating the modifications is also available from the Office of the Secretary or the Web site.

No public hearing is being scheduled in connection with these proposed modifications. However, interested parties are invited to submit written statements (original and 14 copies) concerning any economic effects of the modifications. Commercial or financial information that a submitter desires the Commission to treat as confidential must be submitted on separate sheets of paper, each clearly marked "Confidential Business Information" at the top. INTERNATIONAL TRADE COMMISSION

[Investigation No. AA1921-129 (Review)]

Polychloroprene Rubber From Japan

Determination

On the basis of the record¹ developed in the subject five-year review, the United States International Trade Commission determines, pursuant to section 751(c) of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1675(c)) (the Act), that revocation of the antidumping finding on polychloroprene rubber from Japan would be likely to lead to continuation or recurrence of material injury to an industry in the United States within a reasonably foreseeable time.²

Background

The Commission instituted this review on August 3, 1998 (63 FR 41282) and determined on November 5, 1998 that it would conduct a full review (63 FR 63748, November 16, 1998). Notice of the scheduling of the Commission's review and of a public hearing to be held in connection therewith was given by posting copies of the notice in the Office of the Secretary, U.S. International Trade Commission, Washington, DC, and by publishing the notice in the Federal Register on December 16, 1998 (63 FR 69306). The hearing was held in Washington, DC, on June 3, 1999, and all persons who requested the opportunity were permitted to appear in person or by counsel.

The Commission transmitted its determination in this investigation to the Secretary of Commerce on July 26, 1999. The views of the Commission are contained in USITC Publication 3212 (July 1999), entitled Polychloroprene Rubber from Japan (Inv. No. AA1921-129 (Review)).

Issued: July 30, 1999.

By order of the Commission.

On July 20, 1999, the United States filed a Complaint, which alleged that Allied's proposed acquisition of Browning-Ferris Industries, Inc. The proposed Final Judgment, filed on July 20, 1999, requires Allied and BFI to divest commercial waste collection and/or municipal solid waste disposal operations in each of the geographic areas alleged in the Complaint.
