

unified database so that the interaction between tax, transfer, and other government and private policies can be examined. Government domestic-policy formulators depend heavily upon the SIPP information concerning the distribution of income received directly as money or indirectly as in-kind benefits and the effect of tax and transfer programs on this distribution. They also need improved and expanded data on the income and general economic and financial situation of the U.S. population. The SIPP has provided these kinds of data on a continuing basis since 1983 permitting levels of economic well-being and changes in these levels to be measured over time.

The survey is molded around a central "core" of labor force and income questions that will remain fixed throughout the life of a panel. The core is supplemented with questions designed to answer specific needs, such as obtaining information on taxes, the ownership and contributions made to the Individual Retirement Account, Keogh and 401K plans, examining patterns in respondent work schedules, and child care arrangements. These supplemental questions are included with the core and are referred to as "topical modules."

The topical modules for the 2000 Panel Wave 2 collect information about:

- Work Disability History.
- Education and Training History.
- Marital History.
- Fertility History.
- Migration History.
- Household Relationships.

Wave 2 interviews will be conducted from June 2000 through September 2000.

II. Method of Collection

The SIPP is designed as a continuing series of national panels of interviewed households that are introduced every few years with each panel having durations of 1 to 4 years. All household members 15 years old or over are interviewed using regular proxy-respondent rules. During the 2000 panel, respondents are interviewed a total of three times (3 waves) at 4-month intervals making the SIPP a longitudinal survey. Sample people (all household members present at the time of the first interview) who move within the country and reasonably close to a SIPP primary sampling unit will be followed and interviewed at their new address. Individuals 15 years old or over who enter the household after Wave 1 will be interviewed; however, if these individuals move, they are not followed unless they happen to move along with a Wave 1 sample individual.

Certain Cut-to-Length Carbon Steel Plate From Finland; Notice of Amended Final Results of Administrative Review in Accordance With Final Court Decision

AGENCY: Import Administration, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce.

ACTION: Notice of Amended Final Results of Administrative Review in Accordance with Final Court Decision on Certain Cut-to-Length Carbon Steel Plate from Finland.

SUMMARY: On April 27, 1999, the U.S. Court of International Trade affirmed in part and reversed in part the Department of Commerce's remand determination of the final results of the antidumping duty administrative review of certain cut-to-length carbon steel plate from Finland. As there is now a final and conclusive court decision in this action, we are amending our final results.

EFFECTIVE DATE: December 8, 1999.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Charles Rast or Linda Ludwig, Import Administration, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 14th Street and Constitution Avenue, NW., Washington, DC 20230; telephone: (202) 482-1324 and (202) 482-3833, respectively.

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION:

Background

On April 15, 1997, the Department of Commerce (the Department) published the final results of the second administrative review in Certain Cut-to-Length Carbon Steel Plate from Finland, 62 FR 18468 (April 15, 1997) (Final Results), covering the period August 1, 1994 through July 31, 1995. In the Final Results the Department treated subject merchandise produced to different grade "A" shipbuilding specifications as non-identical merchandise. The Department also used facts available as normal value (NV) for home market sales of wide flat products or beveled plate. The Department used as facts available 32.80 percent ad valorem, the weighted-average duty rate from the original less than fair value (LTFV) investigation.

Subsequent to the publication of the Department's Final Results, both respondent Rautaruukki Oy (Rautaruukki) and petitioners appealed the Final Results to the U.S. Court of International Trade (the Court). Respondent argued that the Department should have treated all grade "A" shipbuilding steel as identical merchandise. Petitioners argued that, as facts available, the Department should have used the rate which resulted from the court challenge to the original LTFV investigation. See Rautaruukki Oy v. United States, Slip Op. 97-56 (CIT, May 13, 1997); Certain Cut-to-Length Carbon Steel Plate from Finland: Amended Final Determination of Sales at Less Than Fair Value, 62 FR 55782, 55783 (October 28, 1997).

Based on these challenges the Court remanded the Final Results. See

Rautaruukki Oy v. United States, Slip Op. 98-112 (CIT, August 4, 1998). On remand, the Court instructed the Department to (1) use as facts available for wide flats and beveled plate products the revised weighted-average rate of 40.36 percent from the original investigation, and (2) obtain additional grade "A" shipbuilding plate information from the respondent Rautaruukki and reconsider its decision on identical product matches.

On October 30, 1998, the Department filed its remand determination with the Court. In its determination, the Department maintained that the specifications for grade "A" shipbuilding steel in this case are not identical for model-match purposes. The Department noted that, in any event, treating grade "A" shipbuilding plate produced to different specifications as identical merchandise would not have affected the calculated dumping margin. Additionally, the Department used a partial facts available rate of 40.36 percent which resulted in a margin of 30.70 percent for the period August 1, 1994 through July 31, 1995.

On April 27, 1999, the Court sustained the Department's use of the revised partial facts available rate in recalculating a weighted-average duty rate. The Court reversed the Department's remand determination as it relates to the treatment of grade "A" merchandise. In this regard, the Court instructed Commerce to recalculate the dumping margin, treating all grade "A" steel plate as identical merchandise. See Rautaruukki Oy v. United States, Slip Op. 99-39 (CIT, April 27, 1999). Despite this instruction, the Court did not remand the final results to the Department, nor did the Court request that the Department inform the Court of its actions.

Pursuant to the Court's order, we have placed on the record in this case the margin calculation program in which we treated all grade "A" shipbuilding steel plate as identical merchandise. The results of the recalculation did not affect the margin calculation specified in the Department's remand determination.

Amendment to Final Results of Review

Because there is now a final and conclusive decision in the court proceeding, effective as of the publication date of this notice, the following final weighted-average dumping margin exists:

CERTAIN CUT-TO-LENGTH CARBON STEEL

Producer/Manufacturer/exporter	Weighted-average margin
Rautaruukki Oy .....	30.70

The Department will instruct the Customs Service to change the cash deposit requirements in accordance with the above rate and assess antidumping duties on all appropriate entries. The Department will issue appraisal instructions directly to the Customs Service.
