

affected by this AD, that it will take approximately 28 work hours per helicopter to accomplish the required actions, and that the average labor rate is $60 per work hour. Required parts will cost approximately $1,620 per helicopter. Based on these figures, the total cost impact of the AD on U.S. operators is estimated to be $462,000.

Operators shall submit their requests through an FAA Principal Maintenance Inspector, who may concur or comment and then send it to the Manager, Regulations Group.

Note 3: Information concerning the existence of approved alternative methods of compliance with this AD, if any, may be obtained from the Regulations Group.

(c) Special flight permits may be issued in accordance with sections 21.197 and 21.199 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR 21.197 and 21.199) to operate the helicopter to a location where the requirements of this AD can be accomplished.

Safety Zone; Kachemak Bay, Alaska

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DOT.

ACTION: Temporary final rule.

SUMMARY: The Coast Guard is establishing a temporary 200 yard radius safety zone on the navigable waters of the United States around the Heavy-lift vessel SWAN that will load the Crowley Marine barge 240-1 carrying living quarters for the Exploratory Drilling Structure "OSPREY" in Kachemak Bay, Alaska. This safety zone is implemented to ensure the safe and timely anchoring, loading, and departure of vessels and a barge operating in Kachemak Bay.

DATES: This temporary final rule is effective from 12:01 a.m. on May 4, 2000, until 11:59 p.m. on May 9, 2000.

ADDRESSES: The public docket for this rulemaking is maintained by Coast Guard Marine Safety Office Anchorage, 510 "L" Street, Suite 100, Anchorage, AK 99501. Materials in the public docket are available for inspection and copying at Coast Guard Marine Safety Office Anchorage. Normal Office hours are 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, except federal holidays.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Lieutenant Commander Rick Rodriguez, Chief of Port Operations, USCG Marine Safety Office, Anchorage, at (907) 271-6724.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Regulatory History

A notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) was not published for this regulation. In keeping with requirements of 5 U.S.C. 553(B), the Coast Guard finds that good cause exists for not publishing a NPRM. In keeping with the requirements of 5 U.S.C. 553 (d)(3), the Coast Guard also finds that good cause exists for making this regulation effective less than 30 days after publication in the Federal Register. Meeting these requirements is impracticable because the scope of the loading activities and logistical details surrounding the loading of this barge on the Heavy-lift vessel SWAN was not finalized and provided to the Coast Guard until less than 30 days before the project date. Furthermore, it is in the public interest to insure the timely and safe loading of the barge onboard the Heavy-lift vessel SWAN to ensure that they do not place other vessels or personnel at risk to injury.

Background and Purpose

The Coast Guard is establishing a temporary 200-yard radius safety zone on the navigable waters of the United States around the Heavy-lift vessel SWAN that will load the Crowley Marine barge 240-1 carrying the living quarters for the Exploratory Drilling Structure "OSPREY" in Kachemak Bay, Alaska. The safety zone is designed to permit the safe and timely anchoring, loading, and departure of this vessel in the narrow timeframe in which this can be safely done. The safety zone's 200-yard standoff also aids the safety of these evolutions by minimizing conflicts and hazards that might otherwise occur with other transiting vessels. The limited size of the zone is designed to minimize impact on other mariners transiting through the area.

Regulatory Evaluation

This rule is not a significant regulatory action under section 3(f) of Executive Order 12866 and does not require an assessment of potential cost and benefits under section 6(a)(3) of that order. It has not been reviewed by the Office of Management and Budget under that order. It is not significant under the regulatory policies and procedures of the Department of Transportation (DOT) (44 FR 11040, February 26, 1979). The Coast Guard expects the economic impact of this proposal to be so minimal that a full Regulatory Evaluation under paragraph 10(e) of the regulatory policies and procedures of DOT is unnecessary.

Small Entities

Under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), the Coast Guard considers whether this rule will have significant economic impacts on a substantial number of small entities. "Small entities" include small businesses, not-for-profit organizations that are independently owned and operated and are not dominant in their fields, and governmental jurisdictions
