[Program Announcement 00046]

Integration of Viral Hepatitis Prevention Services Into Existing Prevention Programs; Notice of Availability of Funds

A. Purpose

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) announces the availability of fiscal year (FY) 2000 funds for a cooperative agreement program for integration of viral hepatitis prevention services into existing prevention programs. CDC is committed to achieving the health promotion and disease prevention objectives of "Healthy People 2010", a national activity to reduce morbidity and mortality and improve the quality of life. This announcement is related to the focus areas of Immunization and Infectious Diseases. For the conference copy of "Healthy People 2010", visit the internet site <http://www.health.gov/healthypeople>.

The purpose of the program is to develop strategies and guidance for integrating recommended viral hepatitis prevention and control services for persons at high risk for infection into existing settings that provide public health services and to improve public health service delivery by integrating viral hepatitis with existing prevention services to reach persons at high risk for disease. This announcement is intended to support implementation and evaluation of integrating currently recommended prevention activities for viral hepatitis (including hepatitis A and hepatitis B vaccination) into existing disease prevention programs, with the primary intent to improve delivery of established prevention services that may directly benefit clients served by these programs.

B. Eligible Applicants

Limited Competition

Because of the requirement that viral hepatitis services be integrated with existing state or local public health programs, assistance will be provided only to the health departments of States or their bona fide agents, including the District of Columbia and the cities of Philadelphia, New York City, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Houston, Chicago, and Baltimore, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, American Samoa, Guam, federally recognized Indian tribal governments, the Federated States of Micronesia, the Republic of the Marshall Islands, and the Republic of Palau. In consultation with States, assistance may be provided to political subdivisions of States.

C. Availability of Funds

Approximately $800,000 is available in FY 2000 to fund approximately four awards. It is expected that the average award will be $200,000, ranging from $150,000 to $400,000. It is expected that the awards will begin on or about September 30, 2000, and will be made for a 12-month budget period within a project period of up to three years. The funding estimate may change.

Continuation awards within an approved project period will be made on the basis of satisfactory progress as evidenced by required reports and the availability of funds.

Funding Preferences

Preference will be given to programs that deliver or provide oversight for public health services to populations in which a high proportion (1000 to 3000 individuals with identifiable risk factors for viral hepatitis are likely to be infected with hepatitis C virus (HCV).

Such programs include STD Clinics, HIV/AIDS counseling/testing sites, correctional settings and providers of services to injection drug users. Also to ensure geographic diversity, additional consideration will be given to the location of the program based on the region of the U.S. (Northeast, southeast, northwest, southwest, north central, and south central states). Finally, to ensure racial and ethnic diversity of the program populations served, consideration will be given to gender and ethnicity of the populations served.

D. Program Requirements

In conducting activities to achieve the purposes of this program, the recipient will be responsible for the activities under 1. (Recipient Activities), and CDC will be responsible for the activities listed under 2. (CDC Activities).

1. Recipient Activities

a. Develop and implement protocol(s) to integrate currently recommended viral hepatitis prevention services into existing public health programs and services, as appropriate for the particular setting(s) proposed. Viral hepatitis prevention services may include, but are not limited to:

- (1) Assessing risk histories for viral hepatitis among clients;
- (2) Providing client-centered prevention counseling to patients with risks for infection;
- (3) Providing testing to appropriate risk groups for HCV infection (anti-HCV) and chronic hepatitis B virus (HBV) infection (hepatitis B surface antigen (HBsAg), when appropriate;
- (4) Providing hepatitis B vaccine to persons in appropriate risk groups (e.g., >1 sex partner in prior 6 months, history of other sexually transmitted diseases (STDs), men who have sex with men (MSM), incarcerated persons, injecting drug users);

(5) Providing hepatitis A vaccine to persons in appropriate risk groups (e.g. MSM, illegal drug users);

(6) Providing primary prevention services for anti-HCV positive and HBsAg-positive persons, including: (a) Counseling on how to prevent transmission to others, (b) Identification of partners (sex and/or needle-sharing) for counseling and referral services, if appropriate, and (c) Providing hepatitis B vaccination for at-risk (sex or needle-sharing) partners and household contacts of HBsAg-positive persons; and

(7) Providing, either directly or by referral, appropriate services to persons found to be HBsAg-positive or anti-HCV positive, including:

- (a) Alcohol and drug counseling, and
- (b) appropriate medical referral and assistance in accessing medical care for evaluation of chronic liver disease and possible treatment.

b. Provide staff training regarding viral hepatitis prevention and control related to implementing this program.

c. Develop and implement a monitoring and evaluation system to assess the feasibility, impact, and effectiveness of integrating viral hepatitis prevention services into existing prevention programs, including measurement of the cost of services and the impact of integration on existing disease prevention services.

d. Conduct appropriate data analysis and interpretation.
