

ceasing to impose the underwriting ban as a condition of approving the type of interlock at issue in this proceeding.

Mr. Lientz also requests that, in lieu of the underwriting ban, the Commission consider the use of two alternative, and less onerous, conditions when approving an interlock between a public utility and an underwriting firm. Specifically, that:

(i) the applicant would refrain from participating, directly, or indirectly, as director or officer of the public utility or the affected underwriting firm (or such underwriting firm's parent), in any decisions regarding the financing of the public utility (or its affiliate(s)) by such underwriting firm; or

(ii) the applicant would prove, to the satisfaction of a majority of the disinterested directors of the public utility and the affected underwriting firm, respectively, that the proposed transactions(s) between the public utility and the underwriting firm are fair and reasonable to the utility's shareholders and ratepayers, such proof to be evidenced by a vote of the disinterested directors of the public utility and the affected underwriting firm.⁷

On September 14, 1998, Georgia Power filed an untimely motion to intervene and a brief in support of Mr. Lientz's request for rehearing. On April 20, 1999, First Union Corporation (First Union) filed an untimely motion to intervene and an amicus brief in support of granting rehearing to reconsider whether the Commission's current policy on interlocks between banks and public utilities should be continued.

Subsequent and Superseding Congressional Action

On November 12, 1999, the President signed into law the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Financial Modernization Act (Financial Modernization Act).⁸ Among other things, this legislation amends section 305(b) to include four conditions, and if any one of these were met, they would remove from our jurisdiction a person seeking to hold an interlocking directorate.⁹ On November 18, 1999, First Union filed a motion to lodge the Financial Modernization Act.

Discussion

Pursuant to Rule 214(d) of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, we will grant the untimely motions to intervene of Georgia Power and First Union, given the unique circumstances present here, their interest in the outcome of this proceeding, and the absence of any prejudice or delay.¹⁰

We will dismiss as moot the request for rehearing. As noted above, subsequent to the August 13 Letter Order and Mr. Lientz's request for rehearing, Congress amended section 305(b). Section 305(b)(2)(B) now provides, in relevant part, that the section 305(b) ban on holding interlocking directorates, absent Commission authorization, does not apply if the person holding the interlock:

(i) does not participate in any deliberations or decisions of the public utility regarding the selection of a bank, trust company, banking association, or firm to underwrite or participate in the marketing of securities of the public utility, if the person serves as an officer or director of a bank, trust company, banking association, or firm that is under consideration in the deliberation process;

(ii) the bank, trust company, banking association, or firm of which the person is an officer or director does not engage in the underwriting of, or participate in the marketing of, securities of the public utility of which the person holds the position of officer or director;

(iii) the public utility for which the person serves or proposes to serve as an officer or director selects underwriters by competitive procedures; or

(iv) the issuance of securities of the public utility for which the person serves or proposes to serve as an officer or director has been approved by all Federal and State regulatory agencies having jurisdiction over the issuance.¹¹

Thus, in amending section 305(b)(2), Congress has eliminated, in certain circumstances, the need for the holder of the interlocks to obtain Commission authorization for such interlocks. These circumstances include, as relevant here, where the underwriting firm¹² involved in an interlock is under consideration to underwrite the securities of the public utility involved in the interlock and where persons who would hold the interlocks do not themselves participate in the public utility's selection of the underwriting firm.¹³

As noted above, in his request for rehearing, Mr. Lientz proposed that as a condition for Commission approval of an interlock, "the applicant would refrain from participating, directly, or indirectly, as director or officer of the public utility or the affected underwriting firm (or such underwriting firm's parent), in any decisions affecting the financing of the public utility (or its affiliate(s)) by such underwriting firm." ¹⁴ We interpret Mr. Lientz' proposed condition as effectively agreeing to the first condition of section 305(b)(2)(B), and we direct Mr. Lientz to notify the Commission within 30 days if he believes that further Commission action is required.

In light of the new legislation pertaining to section 305(b)(2)(B)(i) and our understanding that Mr. Lientz meets at least one of the conditions of section 305(b)(2)(B), he no longer needs Commission authorization to hold the interlocking directorate. Thus, we will dismiss as moot Mr. Lientz's request for rehearing.

We also take this opportunity to state that if there are other individuals who have been granted authorization to hold interlocking directorates, but believe that they now do not need such Commission authorization because of section 305(b)(2)(B), they should notify the Commission of this within 30 days of the date of publication in the Federal Register, pursuant to section 45.5(b) of the Commission's regulations.¹⁵

The Commission orders:

(A) Georgia Power's and First Union's untimely motions to intervene are hereby granted.

(B) Mr. Lientz's request for rehearing of the August 13 Order is hereby dismissed as moot, as discussed in the body of this order.

(C) Any individual who has been granted authorization to hold an interlock who believes he is affected by the Financial Modernization Act is hereby directed to so notify the Commission, within thirty (30) days of the date of publication of this order in the Federal Register, as discussed in the body of this order.

(D) The Secretary is hereby directed to publish this order in the Federal Register.

By the Commission.

David P. Boergers,
Secretary.
