SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Title: Institutional Controls Tracking Systems and Costs Survey (EPA ICR No. 2043.01). This is a new collection.

Abstract: The Office of Emergency and Remedial Response (OERR) is currently researching the development of a system for tracking institutional controls at Superfund sites. Institutional controls are non-engineered site measures such as administrative or legal controls that minimize the potential for exposure to contamination or protect the integrity of a remedy by limiting land or resource use. Proper implementation, monitoring, and enforcement of institutional controls are critical to EPA's core mission of protecting human health and the environment. Although institutional control mechanisms are necessary parts of many site remedies, they are often implemented, monitored, or enforced by state, tribal or local governments. OERR is proposing to complete a study that includes: (1) Conducting research into the types of institutional controls tracking systems that are currently in use and evaluating their relative strengths and weaknesses; (2) developing a focused list of data collection points and definitions; (3) developing and piloting a process for the collection of data to be used to estimate data availability and the cost and time required for data acquisition; (4) developing a data entry process; and (5) researching the feasibility of sharing data and linking federal, state, tribal and local institutional control tracking in a web-based system. In a second phase of this study, OERR is planning to develop the tracking system, establish data linkages, and populate the database. This proposed ICR specifies information necessary to determine what types of institutional controls tracking systems are currently in use; their purpose, scope, and structure; the kinds of data they track; their data entry, quality assurance, administration, and access features; data querying capabilities; compatibility with a future EPA system; development, population, and operating costs; and lessons learned from developing, implementing, and operating these systems. EPA estimates that approximately 52 States, 10 Tribes, and no more than 200 local agencies (planning, zoning, and real estate recording offices) will be surveyed. If approved by OMB, respondents will have 60 days from receipt of the survey to submit their responses. In addition to the survey, this proposed ICR includes EPA requests for clarifications, questions and updates to the survey, and agency visits. Clarifications and updates will be necessary if EPA has follow-up questions regarding responses or if EPA requires more information to understand a tracking system. Up to 50 agencies may be required to submit more detailed descriptions. EPA
