Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality

Request for Measures of Patients' Ambulatory Care Experiences

AGENCY: Agency for Healthcare Research and quality (AHRQ), DHHS.

ACTION: Notice of request for measures.

SUMMARY: The Agency for Healthcare Research and quality (AHRQ) is soliciting the submission of instruments or items that measure patients' perceptions of the quality of ambulatory care from researchers, health plans and other health care providers, stakeholders, vendors and other interested parties. This initiative is in response to input from stakeholders to revise the CAHPS® tool in order to measure different categories of ambulatory health care to provide useful information to multiple audiences, and to provide performance data that are more actionable for quality improvement than the previous CAHPS® instrument.

AHRQ is initiating the redesign of the CAHPS® health plan instrument to include different levels of ambulatory health care delivery, i.e., services provided by individual primary care clinicians (such as a physicians or nurse practitioners); sites of care (that is a particular geographic location or facility from which care is delivered); group practices (where two or more practitioners legally organize as a medical group to deliver care under certain conditions); and health plans (the payor of health care services in either fee-for-service or managed care arrangements); through a review of existing instruments that capture the patients' ambulatory care experiences and perceptions at these different levels. There are several functional areas of ambulatory care that existing instruments (or items) speak to at specific delivery levels, but presently, not every level of ambulatory care delivery is addressed. Functional areas include: Access; communication; courtesy and respect; shared decision making; coordination integration of care; health promotion and education; customer service and decision-support. Our response to stakeholder input will ultimately provide users with a flexible, modular approach to be known as Ambulatory CAHPS (ACAHPs), to assess the quality of ambulatory care for all the functions listed above at the different delivery levels of the ambulatory care system. Presently, we are interested in receiving instruments and/or survey items that have been used for ambulatory care at the health plan level and that address any of the above-listed aspects of ambulatory care.

At a later time, we plan to ask for items that address a broader array of functions and topics at different delivery levels. However, at this time, please submit only those items directly relevant to the topics or functions specified below in the section on Submission Criteria.

DATES: Please submit instruments or items and supporting information on or before July 12, 2004. AHRQ will not respond individually to submitters, but will consider all submitted instruments and items and publicly report the results of the review of the submissions in aggregate.

ADDRESSES: Submissions should include a brief cover letter, a copy of an instrument or items for consideration and supporting statements and information as specified under the Submission Criteria below. Submissions may be in the form of a letter or e-mail, preferably as an electronic file with an E-mail attachment. Electronic submissions are strongly encouraged. Responses to this request should be submitted to: Charles Darby, Agency for Healthcare Research and quality, 540 Gaither Road, Rockville, MD 20850, Phone: (301) 427-1324, Fax: (301) 427-1341, E-mail: cdarby@ahrq.gov.

To facilitate handling of submissions, please include full information about the instrument developer or contact: (a) Name, (b) title, (c) organization, (d) mailing address, (e) telephone number, (f) fax number, and (g) e-mail address. Also, please submit with a copy of the instrument or items for consideration, evidence that it/they meet(s) the criteria set out under the Submission Criteria section below. It is requested that citation of peer-reviewed journal article(s) pertaining to the instrument or item(s) include the title of the article, author(s), publication year, journal name, volume, issue, and page numbers where article appears, may be included but are not required. Please do not use acronyms in your submissions.

Submitters must also provide a statement of willingness to grant to AHRQ the right to use and authorize others to use submitted measures and their documentation as part of a new or revised CAHPS®-trademarked instrument. The new CAHPS® instrument for patient assessment of ambulatory care will, as in the past, be made publicly available, free of charge.
