Background

In January of 2002, in his State of the Union Address, President Bush called on all Americans to dedicate 4,000 hours or two years of their lives to volunteer service. He created the USA Freedom Corps, a coordinating office at the White House to oversee these efforts and to bring increased attention to the ways in which the Administration could work together to enhance opportunities for all Americans to serve their neighbors and their nation. The response has been positive. Last year, 64.5 million Americans volunteered, an increase of more than 5 million since 2002.

The President's Volunteer Service Award (PVSA) is one initiative that grew out of the USA Freedom Corps and the President's Council on Service and Civic Participation as a way to honor those Americans who were answering the President's call to service. The PVSA application is completed by any organization interested in honoring their volunteers with the President's Volunteer Service Award. The application may be completed electronically using an on-line form at <http://www.presidentialserviceawards.gov>.

POLICY JUSTIFICATION

Korea - Contractor, Technical Support, and Logistics Support

The Government of Korea has requested a possible sale for the continuing support for commercial RC-800 Tactical Reconnaissance Aircraft and Reconnaissance Ground Stations, to include contractor services; maintenance; spare and repair parts; support and test equipment; communication support; prime mission equipment (PME); technical support; and contractor engineering; and other related elements of program support. The estimated cost is $200 million.

This proposed sale will contribute to the foreign policy and national security of the United States (U.S.) by helping to improve the security of a friendly country that has been and continues to be an important force for political stability and economic progress in East Asia.

Korea needs the sustainment support to continue its tactical reconnaissance and signal intelligence (SIGINT) operations. The past Letters of Offer and Acceptance provided the tactical reconnaissance and SIGINT gathering PME used in the aircraft and in the attendant ground stations which process and analyze the data gathered. Korea will use this material and support to maintain its current defensive capability and will have no difficulty absorbing this equipment into its armed forces.

The proposed sale of this material and support will not affect the basic military balance in the region.

The principal contractors will be: Lockheed Martin Company in Goodyear, Arizona and L-3 Communications Company in Greenville, Texas as the sole source contractors for the proposed sustainment. There are no known offset agreements proposed in connection with this potential sale.

Contractor representatives will travel to Korea during the program definition phase of this proposed sale.

There will be no adverse impact on U.S. defense readiness as a result of this proposed sale.
