SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Secure Borders and Open Doors Advisory Committee (“the committee”) is a subcommittee of the Homeland Security Advisory Council (HSAC). The committee’s mission is to guide the current and future development of solutions to keep America secure while facilitating travel. The committee reports directly to the HSAC.

At the upcoming meeting, the committee will receive a progress report on various programs and initiatives within the Rice-Chertoff Initiative (“the Initiative”). The Initiative is a joint effort between the Departments of Homeland Security and State to allow regular outreach to the travel, business and academic communities to take their views into account, and to identify “best practices” when developing travel policies. The committee will also hold deliberations and discussions among members, including discussions regarding administrative matters. The committee will report its findings and conclusions at the next formal meeting of the HSAC.

Pursuant to 41 CFR 102-3.35 “the requirements of the [Federal Advisory Committee] Act and the policies of this Federal Advisory Committee

Management part do not apply to subcommittees of advisory committees that report to a parent advisory committee and not directly to a Federal officer or agency. However, this section does not preclude an agency from applying any provision of the Act and this part to any subcommittee of an advisory committee in any particular instance.” Thus, while notice of the instant meeting need not be published in the Federal Register, nor the meeting itself opened to the public, DHS believes that, in the interest of openness and good government, the public should be informed of the meeting, and the meeting should be open to the extent practicable.
