Overview

1. The Second Order on Reconsideration of the Second Report and Order formally denies a Petition for Expedited Reconsideration (Petition) filed by Council Tree Communications, Inc., Bethel Native Corporation, and the Minority Media and Telecommunications Council (collectively, the Joint Petitioners).
2. The Petition sought reconsideration of various Commission decisions made in the Second Report and Order released on April 25, 2006, FR 71, 26245 (May 4, 2006), which modified the Commission's part 1 competitive bidding rules governing designated entities, including rules on eligibility for benefits and unjust enrichment. Joint Petitioners filed their Petition on May 5, 2006. On June 2, 2006, prior to the deadline for filing petitions for reconsideration of the Second Report and Order, the Commission released, sua sponte, an Order on Reconsideration, FR 71 34262 (June 14, 2006), which considered and rejected the arguments included in the Petition without formally denying the Petition.
3. In a July 2006 letter to the Commission, Joint Petitioners stated that the Commission had already decided the merits of the Petition and that the Joint Petitioners were no longer seeking reconsideration. Accordingly, Joint Petitioners asked that the Commission formally dispose of their Petition in order to take the de jure action already taken de facto by the Commission. The Commission agreed with Joint Petitioners that it had already decided the merits of the Petition in the Order on Reconsideration and that the Order on Reconsideration had conclusively rejected the Joint Petitioners' legal arguments.

4. Accordingly, it is ordered that pursuant to Sections 4(i), 5(b), 5(c)(1), 303(r), and 309(j) of the Communications Act, as amended, 47 U.S.C. 154(i), 155(b), 155(c)(1), 303(r), and 309(j), the Petition is hereby denied.

General Description of Collection:
 When an insured institution is closed by its primary regulatory authority, the FDIC has the responsibility to pay the insured claims of the failed bank depositors pursuant to sections 11(a) and (f) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (FDI Act), 12 U.S.C. 1821 (a) and (f), and the FDIC's regulation on "Deposit Insurance Coverage," 12 CFR part 330.

Generally, deposits are insured to a maximum of $100,000. This maximum coverage is based on "ownership rights and capacities." All deposits that are maintained in the same right and capacity are added together and insured up to $100,000 in accordance with the regulations relating to deposit insurance of that particular deposit insurance ownership category. Deposits held in different ownership categories are eligible for $100,000 coverage per category. For example, as a general rule, single-ownership accounts are separately insured from trust accounts held for qualified beneficiaries.

At the time of closing, the FDIC is provided information about customer accounts through the failed institution's records. Based on the institution's records, the FDIC makes preliminary determinations about insurance coverage for each depositor. Depositors initially deemed to be uninsured because their deposits are over $100,000 may be qualified for additional insurance coverage if they can provide documents certifying to the existence of varying ownership rights and capacities.

a. General Deposit Accounts. The forms, declarations, and affidavits in this collection facilitate customers providing the FDIC with the information that may permit a more comprehensive deposit insurance determination.

b. Deposit Brokers. A failed institution's account records may not reveal the actual owner(s) of a particular deposit account. Rather, the account records may indicate that the deposit was placed at the institution by a deposit broker on behalf of one or more third parties. In some cases, the broker's customer may not be an actual owner of the deposit but merely a "second-tier" deposit broker with its own customers. In turn, these customers could be "third-tier" deposit brokers with their own customers. Deposits held in the name of a deposit broker on behalf of clients are covered by federal deposit insurance (up to the $100,000 limit) the same as if the broker's clients had deposited the funds directly into the institution (assuming that the clients are the actual owners of the deposit). This is called "pass-through" deposit insurance coverage.

In order to analyze ownership interest and provide pass-through insurance coverage, the FDIC must obtain certain information from both first and lower-tier deposit brokers: (1) Evidence that each deposit broker is not an owner but an agent or custodian with respect to some or all of the funds at issue; (2) a list of all parties for whom each deposit broker acted as agent or custodian; and (3) the dollar amount of funds held by each deposit broker for each such party as of the date of the depository institution's failure.

Request for Comment

Comments are invited on: (a) Whether this collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the FDIC's functions, including whether the information has practical utility; (b) the accuracy of the estimates of the burden of the information collection, including the validity of the methodologies and assumptions used; (c) ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and (d) ways to minimize the burden of the information collection on respondents, including through the use of automated collection techniques or other forms of information technology.

At the end of the comment period, the comments and recommendations received will be analyzed to determine the extent to which the collection should be modified prior to submission to OMB for review and approval. Comments submitted in response to this notice also will be summarized or included in the FDIC's requests to OMB for renewal of these collections. All comments will become a matter of public record.

Dated at Washington, DC, this 1st day of April, 2008.

Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Robert E. Feldman,

Executive Secretary.
