Information Collection Request Title: Teen Pregnancy Prevention Replication Evaluation Study: Follow-up Data Collection.

Abstract: The Office of Adolescent Health (OAH), Office of the Assistant Secretary for Health (OASH), Office of the Secretary (OS), U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), is overseeing and coordinating adolescent pregnancy prevention evaluation efforts as part of the Teen Pregnancy Prevention Initiative. OAH is working collaboratively with the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Planning and

Evaluation (ASPE), the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), and the Administration for Children and Families (ACF) on adolescent pregnancy prevention evaluation activities.

OAH will jointly oversee with ASPE the Teen Pregnancy Prevention Replication Evaluation Study (TPP Replication Study). The TPP Replication Study will be a random assignment evaluation which will determine the extent to which evidence-based program models that have been shown to be effective in an earlier trial, demonstrate effects on adolescent sexual risk behavior and teenage pregnancy when they are replicated with different populations.

OAH and ASPE are proposing follow-up data collection activity as part of the TPP Replication Evaluation. Specifically, there will be two follow-up data collection points: (1) Short-term follow-up data collection 6 to 12 months post-baseline; and (2) longer-term follow-up data collection 18-24 months post-baseline. Respondents will be asked to answer carefully selected questions about risk and protective factors related to teen pregnancy, intermediate outcomes, and behavioral outcomes.

The survey data will be collected through private, self-administered questionnaires completed by study participants, i.e. adolescents assigned to a select school or community teen pregnancy prevention program or a control group. Surveys will be distributed and collected by trained professional staff.

Need and Proposed Use of the Information: Information from this data collection will be used to perform meaningful analysis to determine significant program effects. The findings from this evaluation will be of interest to the general public, to policy-makers, and to organizations interested in teen pregnancy prevention.

Likely Respondents: Adolescents, either assigned to teen pregnancy preview programs or part of a control group.

Burden Statement: Burden in this context means the time expended by persons to generate, maintain, retain, disclose or provide the information requested. This includes the time needed to review instructions, to develop, acquire, install and utilize technology and systems for the purpose of collecting, validating and verifying information, processing and maintaining information, and disclosing and providing information, to train personnel and to be able to respond to a collection of information, to search data sources, to complete and review the collection of information, and to transmit or otherwise disclose the information. The total annual burden hours estimated for this ICR are summarized in the table below.

TOTAL ESTIMATED ANNUALIZED BURDEN—HOURS

Form name	Type of respondents	Number of respondents	Number of responses per respondent	Average burden per response (in hours)	Total burden hours
Safer Sex Intervention	Sexually active youth	1,900	2	0.5	1,900

The system will maintain registration and training records containing personally identifiable information (PII) about individual health professionals who are registrants/users of the Think Cultural Health Web site. The program and the system of records are more

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. The Think Cultural Health Web Site Program

The Think Cultural Health Web site Program was created in recognition of the effectiveness of on-line distance learning. It supports the HHS/OS/OASH/OMH in complying with the cultural competency requirements of the Affordable Care Act of 2010 (Pub. L. 111–148), as well as the HHS Action Plan to Reduce Racial and Ethnic Health Disparities, the National Stakeholder Strategy for Achieving Health Equity, Healthy People 2020, the Secretary’s Strategic Plan priorities, and the Assistant Secretary for Health’s Public Health Quality Agenda. The program will use a Web site to post information such as cultural competency, language access and health disparities articles, and notices of health disparities conferences for viewing by any visitors to the site. Other resources, consisting of training and newsletters, will be available through the Web site to health professionals who register to use those resources. The Think Cultural Health system will not collect PII about visitors, but will collect PII about registrants/users. Use of the resources offered on the site is voluntary, but registration information is required to determine if the site is used by variety of health professionals, representing different disciplines, skill sets, and demographic locations. The provision of data concerning the registrant’s gender and race is optional. Additionally, training and test records are needed for reports to accrediting bodies.

II. The Privacy Act

The Privacy Act (5 U.S.C. 552a) governs the means by which the United States Government collects, maintains, and uses PII in a system of records. A “system of records” is a group of any records under the control of a Federal agency from which information about individuals is retrieved by name or other personal identifier. The Privacy Act requires each agency to publish in the Federal Register a SORN identifying and describing each system of records the agency maintains, including the purposes for which the agency uses PII in the system, the routine uses for which the agency discloses such information outside the agency, and how individual record subjects can exercise their rights under the Privacy Act (e.g., to determine if the system contains information about them).
