SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

The United States Government has a longstanding zero-tolerance policy against human trafficking in Federal supply chains, codified in Governmentwide acquisition regulations at Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) subpart 22.17. DFARS Procedures, Guidance, and Information 22.1703 (referencing DoD Instruction 2200.01) supplements the policy, and DFARS 242.302 imposes additional monitoring requirements upon contractors. Despite these protections, recent reports on Federal contracting—including findings from the Commission on Wartime Contracting and agency Inspector General offices—and testimony presented at congressional hearings indicated that the Government needs to strengthen its policies and practices to ensure that no taxpayer resources are used to support such egregious labor violations.

On September 25, 2012, President Obama signed Executive Order 13627, Strengthening Protections Against Trafficking in Persons in Federal Contracts, to address these needs and reinforced the Government's commitment to a zero-tolerance. On January 2, 2013, the Congress passed its own measure in Title VXII of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2013 (Pub. L. 112–239), known as the End Trafficking in Government Contracting Act. Both authorities create a stronger framework for agency prevention of trafficking by, among other things, (i) Clarifying what constitutes trafficking or trafficking-related activities in the Federal supply chain, (ii) requiring contractors in certain circumstances to maintain compliance plans to help ensure their employees do not engage in, or become complicit to, human trafficking in their supply chain, and (iii) establishing requirements for training the Federal acquisition workforce.

In addition to working with members of the Federal Acquisition Regulatory Council to implement the Executive Order and the statute in the Federal Acquisition Regulation, DoD has identified a number of important supplementary actions to help eradicate trafficking in its own supply chain. Accordingly, DoD is proposing changes to the DFARS coverage on trafficking to supplement the proposed new FAR coverage. The DFARS coverage would include ensuring that employees of DoD contractors are fully aware of their labor rights and that they have a means of reporting suspected labor violations directly to the DoD Inspector General's office. These added protections will further improve stability, productivity, and certainty in the contingency operations that DoD supports, and they will ensure that DoD contractors do not benefit from the use of coerced labor.

II. Discussion and Analysis

This DFARS case proposes to amend DFARS parts 203, 204, 212, 222, and 252 of title 48, to increase contractor and employee awareness of trafficking in persons and improve compliance and enforcement by the Government, contractors, and subcontractors. Significant changes are as follows:

- Revise the title of DFARS clause 252.203–7004, now titled “Display of Fraud Hotline Poster(s),” to “Display of Hotline Poster(s)” and add the requirements for posting of additional types of hotline posters (regarding trafficking in persons and whistleblowing). The revised clause would retain the $5 million threshold and the exclusion for commercial items, but require contractors to post these new posters when performing either inside or outside the United States. If a substantial portion of the workforce does not speak English, then contractors must also post the posters in the language(s) spoken by a substantial portion of the workforce.

- Add a new representation that the offerors' hiring practices address Combating Trafficking in Persons and that their companies are complying with these requirements (252.222–70XX). This representation would be applicable to all solicitations that exceed the simplified acquisition threshold, including contracts for acquisition of commercial items. This representation would also add requirements to notify employees and subcontractors regarding their obligation to report trafficking in persons violations and that they will be afforded whistleblower protection (see the clause at DFARS 252.203–7002, Requirement to Inform Employees of Whistleblower Rights).

- Integrate a contractor employee bill of rights (developed in 2009 by the Army Air Force Exchange Service as a Concessionaire Bill of Rights) into DFARS clause 252.225–7040, Contractor Personnel Authorized to Accompany the U.S. Armed Forces outside the United States, with a requirement that contractor employees be made aware of it, that their employers enforce it, and that it is posted in employee workspaces in English and any foreign languages spoken by a significant portion of the workforce.

III. Executive Orders 12866 and 13563

Executive Orders (E.O.s) 12866 and 13563 direct agencies to assess all costs and benefits of available regulatory alternatives and, if regulation is necessary, to select regulatory approaches that maximize net benefits (including potential economic, environmental, public health and safety effects, distributive impacts, and equity). E.O. 13563 emphasizes the importance of quantifying both costs and benefits, of reducing costs, of harmonizing rules, and of promoting flexibility. This is a significant regulatory action and, therefore, was subject to review under section 6(b) of E.O. 12866, Regulatory Planning and Review, dated September 30, 1993. This rule is not a major rule under 5 U.S.C. 804.

IV. Regulatory Flexibility Act

DoD does not expect this rule to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities within the meaning of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601, et seq. However, an initial regulatory flexibility analysis has been performed and is summarized as follows:

This rule proposes to amend the Defense Federal Acquisition Regulation Supplement to improve awareness, compliance, and enforcement of DoD policies on combating trafficking in persons. This rule proposes the display of hotline posters on combating trafficking in persons and whistleblower protection for contracts that exceed $5 million (for performance both inside and outside the United States), display of a contractor employee bill of rights when the contract includes the DFARS clause 252.225–7040, Contractor Personnel Authorized to Accompany the U.S. Armed Forces Deployed Outside the United States, and a representation with regard to hiring policies that goes in all DoD solicitations and contracts that exceed the simplified acquisition threshold.

The legal basis for the rule is 41 U.S.C. 1303.

In total, there are about 57,760 small entities that do business with DoD. The mandatory disclosure requirements and the hotline poster requirements only apply to small business concerns with DoD contracts or subcontracts that exceed $5 million (except for commercial items). The representation regarding hiring practices applies to all small business concerns that respond to solicitations with an estimated value exceeding the simplified acquisition threshold. The requirement to display the contractor employee bill of rights only applies to contracts that authorize contractor personnel to accompany the U.S. Armed Forces deployed outside the United States in contingency operations, humanitarian or peacekeeping operations, or other military operations or exercises, when designated by the combatant commander. None of these requirements is expected to impose a significant economic burden on small business concerns.

There are no requirements in this proposed rule that represent an information collection requirement.

The rule does not duplicate, overlap, or conflict with any other Federal rules.

There were no alternatives to be adopted that could further decrease the impact on small entities.

DoD invites comments from small business concerns and other interested parties on the expected impact of this rule on small entities.

DoD will also consider comments from small entities concerning the existing regulations in subparts affected by this rule in accordance with 5 U.S.C. 610. Interested parties must submit such comments separately and should cite 5 U.S.C 610 (DFARS Case 2013–D007), in correspondence.

V. Paperwork Reduction Act

The rule does not contain information collection requirements that require the approval of the Office of Management and Budget under the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C chapter 35.)

Commercial Driver's License Standards: Definition of Tank Vehicle Used for Determining the License Endorsement Requirement

AGENCY: Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA), DOT.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM), request for comments.

SUMMARY: FMCSA proposes to revise its definition of “tank vehicle.”

Commercial driver's license (CDL) holders who operate such vehicles are required to obtain a tank vehicle endorsement. On May 9, 2011, FMCSA published a final rule on “Commercial Driver's License Testing and Commercial Learner's Permit Standards” that included a new definition of tank vehicle which required additional drivers to obtain tank vehicle endorsements on their commercial learners' permits (CLPs) and CDLs. FMCSA received numerous petitions regarding the new definition. On May 24, 2012, the Agency published guidance in the Federal Register to clarify the “tank vehicle” definition. This NPRM would revise the definition by incorporating the 2012 regulatory guidance. FMCSA seeks comment on the proposal and information on the impact that the revised definition would have on the industry.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before November 25, 2013.

ADDRESSES: You may submit comments identified by Docket Number FMCSA–2013–0140 using any of the following methods:

• Federal eRulemaking Portal: <http://www.regulations.gov>. Follow the online instructions for submitting comments.
