AGENCY: Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS), HHS.

ACTION: Notice.

DATES: Submission Dates: May 9, 2016, 12:01 a.m., Eastern daylight time (e.d.t.) through August 10, 2016, 11:59 p.m., e.d.t.

Judging Dates: August 20 through September 10, 2016.

Winners Announced: September 25 through 28, 2016.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Ben Shannon, Communications Advisor, Office of the Assistant Secretary for Public Affairs, Department of Health and Human Services, 200 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, DC 20201, phone (202) 205-2819, email ben.shannon@hhs.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

Patients in the United States often have difficulty understanding the medical billing process. Currently, there is no standard for consumer medical billing documents, and bills vary in content, presentation, and use of jargon. Consumers also receive bills from multiple sources and may not understand the rationale for each bill, or know that they will be receiving multiple bills for one episode of care.

HHS recognizes that many health care organizations have been doing important work to address the complex problems that individuals face as they navigate the medical billing process. A national design and innovation challenge is a unique way to both support these ongoing efforts and catalyze innovation.

II. Provisions of the Notice

The Challenge has two objectives:

- Objective 1: “Redesigning the Medical Bill”: Improving the medical bill itself. That is, making it more readable and easier for the consumer to understand.

- Objective 2: “Redesigning the Medical Billing Process”: Improving the overall medical billing process. Submissions could address any step in the consumer journey from the medical encounter to afterward (for example, providing information at discharge on the medical billing process, developing a consolidated bill, creating a unified billing portal, etc.).

HHS intends for the challenge to produce conceptual solutions and frames that will help health systems and payers continue to make improvements in reducing the complexity of medical bills and improving the financial aspect of health from the patient’s perspective. HHS anticipates health systems and payers will find ways to work with Challenge winners to evaluate their solutions for implementation and testing in the real world after the Challenge concludes.

A. Subject of the Challenge Competition

“A Bill You Can Understand” design and innovation challenge will invite participants to design a medical bill that is easier to understand, as well as reinvent cost of care estimation and the medical billing journey with the goal of improving the patient financial experience. Participants will be asked to submit entries that improve both the design of the medical bill and patient experience of the medical billing process. Submissions will include the (1) design concept for the redesigned medical bill, (2) journey map or wireframe for the redesigned patient experience, (3) written explanation of submission, and (3) video explanation of submission. Specific criteria for the written and video explanations will be provided on the Challenge Web site. These may include but are not limited to explaining how the redesign will better empower patients to understand the financial information provided on their medical bill and take appropriate action and vision for an improved patient financial experience. The challenge is sponsored by AARP, administrated by Mad*Pow, an experience design agency, and organized in collaboration with HHS.

B. Eligibility Rules for Participating in the Competition
